COMING BATTLE.

RUSSIAN GUNS AT SHEKLUNG.

TROOPS ASSEMBLE.

Yesterday, we reported that General Chang Kai-shek had gone to the East River sector to inspect the lines of defence. News now comes to hand that he is still at the front making elaborate preparations for the approaching conflict.

It is said that at Shek-pai and Shek-tan, the second line of defence, trenches are being excavated after the approved type of modern warfare, under the superintendence of Russian engineers, officers, and that field guns, recently arrived from Vladivostok, and a Machine Gun, Corps, officered and manned by Russians, have reached Shek-lung. The guns are being assembled with all possible haste to be in readiness for the order to advance.

It further stated that General Gallant is also at the front with General Chang Kai-shek and that 20,000 troops, composed of the Cadets Corps and the Kuomintang Army, have already been mobilized and are advancing to pre-arranged positions.

There is no doubt that a conflict of the two opposing forces is imminent for General Chang Kai-shek realizes that any delay on his part would mean more time given to his enemies for making further preparations.

CADETS SUFFER REVERSE.

News is to hand that the Cadets suffered a reverse when they came into contact with some of Chan King-ming's forces on Sunday at a place near Chikam, beyond Tiang-sing city, which is about twenty miles north-west of Sheklung. No details of the fighting are to hand, but it is known that the Cadets were badly beaten.

It is stated that the Cadets are not so well off now as they were some time ago, this being due to the fact that quite a number of Russian officers left for Shanghai on the same vessel as General Hsu Sung-chi recently.

With regard to the arrest of the Szechuan general, reported yesterday, it is stated that he was trapped on being invited to a Moon Cake festival, being arrested together with five or six of his subordinate officers. He is now said to be detained at Whampoa. There is much speculation as to whether his troops, which are on the northern border of the province, will remain loyal to the Government or join hands with General Chan King-ming's forces.

"SLAVIC PRINCE."

SUSTAINS UNIMPORTANT DAMAGE.

With regard to the grounding of the s.s. Slavic Prince in the Suez Canal, advice have been received locally from London that the vessel arrived at Alexandria on October 3rd, where she discharged cargo of about 2,500 tons. The damage consequent on the grounding was unimportant and the vessel left Alexandria yesterday, October 6th.

GLASGOW CUP.

ANOTHER DRAWN RE-PLAY.

London, Oct. 6. In the Glasgow Cup semi-final replay, Glasgow Rangers and Celtic again drew with one goal each.

SECRET SOCIETY.

TWO STONEMASONS CHARGED.

Two stonemasons, alleged to be members of a Triad Society, are being held in police custody whilst Criminal Investigation Department officials are going through certain papers and books seized in a trunk in the joint possession of the men.

A preliminary examination has shown the papers to relate to the existence of a secret society, and it is expected that interesting disclosures will be made when the contents had been thoroughly gone into. In the meantime, both men were remanded on appearance before Mr. S. B. B. McElderry at the Central Magistracy to-day.

CAPTAIN RETIRES.

ECHO OF SAILING SHIP DAYS.

Captain and Mrs. Peter Tall left the Colony yesterday by the Blue Funnel liner Hellenus for Home, where they will take up their residence in the Isle of Man.

The Captain is one of the mariners who has stayed in the Colony for a very long period—in fact, over 24 years—and he retires now at the age of 74 to enjoy a well-earned rest. A host of friends were on board the Hellenus to bid Capt. and Mrs. Tall farewell, amongst whom were Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. C. Atkinson, Mr. Mayes, Captain and Mrs. Drummond, Mrs. Harris Walker, Miss Walker, Miss Joyce Walker, Mrs. Collison, Captain T. G. Purvis and Captain Malm.

Having followed a seafaring life for about 58 years, the Captain was, in 1884, master of one of the swiftest sailers ever constructed, namely the "La Escocesa," which during that year made the passage from South Shields to Valparaiso in 54 days. This vessel on many occasions made as many as 18 knots per hour, and some old mariners state that she was even faster than the Cutty Sark. Theromylas, the Great Republic, and many other famous ships of her time. She was a full-rigged ship of about 900 tons register, and it is recorded by many sailors of long experience that although Capt. Tall had her for years, and drove her very hard, and as far as is known was never beaten for fast passage, he never had an accident as a master, and never lost a man. He is known to have made nearly 60 passages around the Horn—a fact which is true of very few other sailors alive to-day.

ANTI-MALARIA CONGRESS.

ALGERIA THE NEXT VENUE.

Rome, Oct. 6. The Anti-Malaria Congress has closed, after unanimously approving the acceptance of an invitation by France to hold the next congress at Algiers, in 1930, on the occasion of the centenary of French occupation of Algiers and the fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of the parasite of malaria in Algeria.—Reuter.

MANNA RETIRED.

DERBY WINNER AT STUD.

London, Oct. 6. Mr. Henry Morris has arranged to send Manna to Mr. Howard and to Mr. Howard.

SHIP PIRATED.

CANTON STEAMER RANSACKED.

TWO KILLED.

News has been received from the Telegraph correspondent at Canton of the pirating of the s.s. Kwok Ning, which plies between Canton and West River ports. Two of the crew were killed and two others wounded.

The steamer arrived at Canton on Saturday morning last, having been somewhat "overdue," and reported that she had been pirated close to Tai Ma Ling, which is not far from Kumbhuk.

The pirates went aboard the boat disguised as strike and boycott pickets at about 6.30 p.m. and remained until after midnight. Whilst on board they ransacked the ship and acted in a very brutal manner to all with whom they came into contact. Two of the crew were shot, whilst two others were wounded.

Amongst the passengers on the ship was the Rev. Mr. Kempf, an American missionary attached to the Reform Presbyterian Mission, who was making a trip from Canton to Takling. In common with other passengers, Mr. Kempf suffered the loss of everything, the pirates even taking away his keys and spectacles. There were no guards or barricades on the vessel, and this fact was greatly in favour of the pirates.

The Chinese captain and the No. 1 comrade were kidnapped, but the No. 2 comrade and a pilot escaped by disguising themselves as coolies, even assisting in unloading the cargo into small boats for the pirates. They thus remained on the ship and later brought her to Canton.

Before the pirates departed, they had seized all the cargo, with which, and the booty obtained from passengers, they made good their escape.

THE DOG ORDER.

KOWLOON LADY FINED.

Miss V. M. Jefford, of No. 21, Cameron Road, Kowloon, was summoned at the instance of Police Sergeant Dungey, before Mr. S. B. B. McElderry at the Central Magistracy this morning, for taking her dog across the harbour without a special permit from the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon.

In reply, she said that she did not know of the order. She did not see any notice in this connection on the ferry and there was no policeman about from whom she might expect to be informed on the point.

The Magistrate questioned various police officers in the Court, including Sergeant Dungey, as to whether they had seen such a notice posted on the boards at the ferry piers. These replied that a notice had been put up there before, but they were not sure that it was still there now.

Sergeant Dungey was sent away to investigate, whilst the case was put back for an hour, but before his return the Magistrate had decided to resume the case.

His Worship said he assumed that no notice had been put up on the ferries, but as everyone was supposed to know the regulation in regard to the taking of dogs across the harbour, he would impose a fine. The sum of $1 was assessed.—Reuter.

SHAKEE VICTIMS.

"NATIONAL FUNERAL" AT CANTON.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Canton, Oct. 5.

There was an echo of the Shamen shooting incident to-day, when what was officially described as "the national funeral of the heroes of Shamen" took place.

The coffins—47 in number—had been lying in state for some days in the East Parade Ground, where they had been "worshipped" by relatives and others.

Prior to the funeral procession, various officials who took part therein assembled at the Tung Uen, whilst students of the Kwangtung University and members of the Labour Guilds gathered at the Parade Ground, where speeches were delivered.

Then began a lengthy procession through the city. Each coffin was borne on a low goods trolley, which was preceded in each instance by a table bearing a gruesome photograph of each victim taken after death, as well as flag bearing the name of the deceased. The route was lined by thousands of spectators, but there were no armed forces in the procession, which slowly moved its way to the Provincial Treasury Building and later left for the hills adjoining the Shamen road, where the interments took place.

The procession did not come anywhere near Shamen, and as it passed through the city there were no signs of enthusiasm, the general opinion expressed being that, psychologically, the parade was a mistake, as it made little impression on the crowds gathered.

SHANGHAI ENQUIRY.

EVIDENCE OF CHINESE BOYCOTT.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Oct. 7.

The Chinese intention completely to boycott the judicial enquiry was evidenced at this morning's opening session when there were less than a score of Chinese among an attendance of three hundred.

It was announced that the first witness would be the Rev. Harry Westridge, a missionary eye-witness, who will be heard first because he is departing shortly from Shanghai. Following him, a Municipal Council statement will be given.

The hearing has been adjourned until Monday.

LADY INJURED.

THROUGH STEPPING OFF MOVING BUS.

A European lady, who did not give her name or address, sustained injuries to her face yesterday when she attempted to alight off a bus in Nathan Road, before the vehicle had come to a standstill.

The report which has been given to the Police by the bus driver, is that the whistle was blown for the bus to stop opposite the Dairy Farm's premises. Before it came to a stop the lady had stepped out, and, losing her balance, she fell rather heavily to the ground.

She was taken to the Kowloon Dispensary, which is close by, where she received treatment.

The Observatory states that moderate monsoon will continue over the northern China Sea. North-east winds, fresh, with fair weather, are forecasted.

THE BUDGET.

DECREASE OF SIX MILLIONS.

EXPENSES CUT.

What will probably be one of the most interesting Budgets ever introduced into the Legislative Council will be that upon which His Excellency the Governor will address the Council to-morrow. It has already been announced that strict economy has been exercised in the drafting of next year's expenditure, and this fact is revealed to-day by the circulation of to-morrow's agenda paper, from which it appears that the Hon. Colonial Secretary will move the first reading of a Bill intitled An Ordinance to apply a sum not exceeding $18,767,777 to the Public Service for the year 1926.

As compared with the $25,278,133 asked for the expenses of 1925 when the estimates for this year were introduced last October, the Budget for 1926 shows a reduction of over $6,000,000, although it should be remembered that nothing like so much as $25 million will now be spent this year in view of the economies which have been effected since the strike broke out in June.

The amounts asked for in the Budget Bills of the past ten years show the rapid expansion which the Colony has enjoyed:—

1916	.....	$ 9,081,209
1917	.....	$ 8,605,105
1918	.....	$ 8,868,910
1919	.....	$10,605,345
1920	.....	$11,173,226
1921	.....	$14,084,662
1922	.....	$16,450,181
1923	.....	$17,869,016
1924	.....	$19,897,302
1925	.....	$25,278,133

The above sums are the estimates which the Legislative Council have voted for the services of the Colony and do not include any amount for the Imperial military contribution.

UNIVERSAL AMITY.

PRESIDENT'S ADVICE TO AMERICANS.

Omaha, Oct. 6.

Addressing the convention of the American Legion, President Coolidge predicted that the world would have to prepare for another conflict unless racial animosities were demolished and an attitude of universal toleration were created. He hoped America would take the lead in this, and begin at home. Peace and security were more likely to result from fair, honourable dealings and mutual agreements to limit the armaments of nations than any attempt at competition in squadrons and battalions. Mr. Coolidge expressed the opinion that the military should be subordinated to and be governed by the civil authority, therefore any organization of men in military service bent on inflaming the public mind with the purpose of forcing the Government to action through pressure of public opinion was an exceedingly dangerous undertaking and precedent.

"America first" was a perfectly correct aspiration for Americans to cherish, but the problem they had to solve was how to make America first. It could not be done by cultivating national bigotry, arrogance and selfishness. "Hatreds, jealousies and suspicions will not produce any benefits in this direction."—Reuter's American Service.

PORTUGAL'S DAY.

CELEBRATIONS AT MACAO.

The fifteenth anniversary of the establishment of the Republic of Portugal, was celebrated at Macao (says the Diario de Macao) with all the solemnity and observances befitting the occasion. The weather was not ideal for the outdoor ceremonies but the wet weather did not damp the ardour of the many hundreds that gathered close to the Government House to witness the firing of the salute at noon.

In the morning there was the usual reveille and during the day all the vessels in port were dressed in honour of the day. At noon a salute of twenty-one guns was fired from Monte, by the field artillery in front of Government House, and from the various war ships in port.

Owing to the rain the parade that had been announced to take place in the afternoon had to be cancelled. The parade would have been an impressive one, with over 1,500 men taking part, the largest number for a very long time.

At night, His Excellency the Governor, Col. J. A. Santos held a reception at Government House in honour of the occasion. The Government buildings and warships were all illuminated at night, as well as a number of private residences.

LOCARNO CONFERENCE.

CROP OF SENSATIONAL RUMOURS.

Locarno, Oct. 6.

A crop of rumours which has spread during the past twenty-four hours, beginning with the story of a plot by German Nationalists to assassinate Herr Luther and Herr Stresemann because they are willing to renounce further claims to Alsace-Lorraine and ending with a report that the minor indisposition of Herr Stresemann, has been effectively disposed of by Herr Stresemann's appearing at the Conference to-day.—Reuter.

NO CRITICAL QUESTIONS REACHED.

Locarno, Oct. 6.

A singularly good sympathetic feeling was apparent at the two hours' session of the Conference to-day but no critical questions have yet been reached, such as those which concern the arrangement under which Germany will enter the League and the conclusion of the western and Eastern Pacts. It is believed that Jurists have reached a conclusion as regards the western pact but that a serious difference of opinion still exists between the Franco-Polish and German standpoints as regards the eastern pact.—Reuter.

TARIFF CONFERENCE.

MR. BROOKE-SMITH APPOINTED.

London, Oct. 6.

It is understood that Mr. A. Brooke-Smith, the managing director of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., Shanghai, has been appointed an additional technical adviser to the British delegation to the Chinese tariffs conference.—Reuter.

EXTRA-TERRITORIALITY.

BELGIUM'S REPRESENTATIVES.

Brussels, Oct. 6.

M. de Ruelle, the Director of Judicial affairs at the Foreign Ministry, will represent Belgium, and M. Van Cutsem, the Consul General at Tientsin, will act as an additional Belgian representative on the extra-territoriality commission in China.—Reuter.

THE ANTI-REDS.

PEKING CANTONENSE BUSY.

MASS MEETING.

News is to hand to-day that prominent Cantonese residing in Peking are urging the Central Government to clear out the Bolsheviks from Canton by military force.

This information was contained in a private telegram from Peking, which stated that the Cantonese residents of the capital held a mass meeting on the 3rd inst., at the Kwangtung Guild premises, for the purpose of discussing the present situation in their native Province, in view of the necessity of combating the Bolshevik evil by every means available, without delay.

There were about 300 Cantonese at this gathering, including such influential personages as Messrs. Liang Shi-yi, Yeh Kung-cho, Lo Wen-kon, Liang Meng-ting, Admiral Tsai Ting-kan, and others.

After discussion, a resolution was passed, that a petition be forwarded to the Chief Executive urging the necessity of issuing a mandate to bring Gen. Chang Kai-shek into subjection by military force, and to restore order in Kwangtung by dispersing all Bolshevik influences.

A sub-committee composed of five members was elected to give due deliberation to the drawing up of the petition, which was to be submitted to another meeting for confirmation a week later.

Campaign Gathers Force.

That the anti-Bolshevik movement is gathering force is demonstrated by the fact that a society under the name of Fellowship of anti-Bolshevik Aims of China, has been formed at a certain port, and a committee appointed to direct the affairs of this Fellowship. The society has but one object, and that is the prevention and eradication of Bolshevism in China. It is said that this organization has already made considerable progress in that the entire working of the machinery has been divided into sub-committees, by which it is expected that better and more rapid results will be obtained.

The society decided at its first meeting of its committee, to send a circular telegram to all distinguished personages in China denouncing the nefarious designs of Wang Ching-wai, General Chang Kai-shek, M. Borodin and General Gallant, appealing to them, in the name of humanity, to give their best efforts in an endeavour to prevent the spread of Bolshevism in China.

ELUSIVE CHICHERIN.

VISIT TO GERMAN PRESIDENT.

Rome, Oct. 6.

M. Chicherin, who is supposed to be en route for a health cure in Germany, is reported to have arrived at Meran, in the Trentino.—Reuter.

Berlin, Oct. 6.

M. Chicherin is still here. He has visited President Hindenburg, this being the first time he has been inside the presidential residence.—Reuter.

GEN. HSU'S TOUR.

NEARING ITS CONCLUSION.

Paris, Oct. 6.

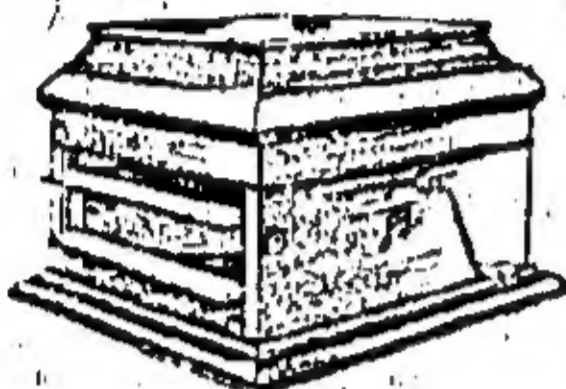

General Hsu and the members of his Chinese mission, are leaving for America on Oct. 7th, for a short stay there and in Japan, prior to his return to China.—Reuter.

OBITUARY.

CAPTAIN T. C. N. THOMPSON.

The death is announced of Captain Thomas Charles Nichols
Thompson, R.D., R.N.R., retired, aged 54. After several years at sea in the merchant service, Captain Thompson joined the Royal Reserve as a sub-lieutenant in June, 1898, and was promoted to lieutenant in January, 1901.
When war broke out he was appointed lieutenant-commander and navigating officer of the Macedonia, which was commissioned as an armed merchant cruiser for service in the Atlantic. The vessel joined Rear-Admiral Stoddart off the South American coast, and after the Coronel reverse was among the ships which came under the orders of Admiral Sturdee.
On the night of the Admiral's arrival from England with reinforcements she was told off to patrol ten miles from the entrance to Port Stanley, in the Falklands.
It is common knowledge how the German squadron arrived next morning, and Admiral Sturdee deputed the Bristol and Macedonia to destroy the transports accompanying Admiral von Spee, which was done.
The Macedonia sank one of the colliers, the Baden, by gunfire. In January, 1916,
Lieutenant-Commander Thompson was appointed to the Naval Base at Plymouth as second-in-command, and remained there until after the Armistice. He was promoted to commander in December, 1917, and to captain on his retirement five years later.

Engineer-Captain W. P.
Chapman, R.N.

Engineer Captain William Pote Chapman, R.N., retired, whose death at Plymouth is announced, entered the Navy as an assistant engineer on January 1, 1884, and a year later joined the troopship Serapis. From 1887 he was on the North American Station in the Buzzard, afterwards drillship for the R.N.V.R. at Blackfriars, and from 1893 chief engineer of the cruiser Rapid in Australia. After further service in the cruiser Sybille, which was wrecked in Lambert's Bay in January, 1901, he was appointed to the Naval Base at Hongkong. He had been promoted to chief engineer in April, 1896, and to engineer commander four years later. From 1906 he was in charge of the machinery of the Eurymachus, flagship in the West Indies, and from 1909 of the battleship Implacable. He retired in January, 1911, with the rank of engineer captain.

Locarno, October 6.
All the delegates coming to the discussions, which are expected to take the form of a series of informal talks, are pledged to secrecy.
All Press representatives are barred and only official information will be available. This will be contained in communiques. The conference is due to be resumed this morning but a postponement is likely owing to M. Stresemann, contracting a chill.—Reuter.

A BIBLICAL FIND.

Philadelphia, October 6.

Philistines and wherein Saul's armour was hung after he was slain on Mount Gilboa.—Reuter's American Service.

GENERAL HSU IN PARIS.

Paris, October 6.
General Hsu Shu-tseng, interviewed by Le Temps, declared that he was glad to have conferred with the French specialists of every kind and to have experienced the pro-Chinese sympathy of all classes.
General Hsu is convinced that Chinese civilization and French culture can rejoin and compete mutually on a number of points but it is necessary that the two peoples be more acquainted. When he gets back to China General Hsu will continue his policy of Franco-Chinese rapprochement.—Havas.

PYORRHEA

PYORRHEA is distressing to have but easy to prevent. For one hundred years dentists throughout the world have recommended this preventive: saturate your brush with sparkling, refreshing LIQUID SOZODONT the first thing in the morning. Massage your gums briskly until the foamy liquid has brought the blood tingling to the gums. Rub the teeth thoroughly from gum to the edge of the teeth. Let century-old LIQUID SOZODONT penetrate every crevice between the teeth to remove small particles of food.

Use either SOZODONT PASTE or POWDER to thoroughly clean the teeth. This should be done at least twice a week. SOZODONT is free from disagreeable and harmful grit.

If you will persist in the combined use of LIQUID SOZODONT and SOZODONT PASTE or POWDER your gums will resist dread pyorrhea and your teeth will be free from decay.

LOCAL FOOTBALL.

TEAMS FOR THE "B" LEAGUE.

At a meeting of the Hongkong Football League held yesterday there were thirteen entries for the B section of the second Division, but three of these were refused. The remaining ten clubs which entered the league were: The Drum's reserves of the East Surrey Regiment, Kowloon Football Club, St. Joseph's College A and B, Club de Recreio, Moslems A and B, University, and South China A and B.

It was stated that the delay in commencing the season has been on account of the grounds dispute. Delegates from the League will attend the meeting which is being held to-morrow when the question of grounds control will be brought up.

SANITARY BOARD DISCUSSIONS.

CASES OF IMPORTED CHOLERA.

A Water Supply Query.

A meeting of the Sanitary Board was held in the Board room Post Office Building yesterday afternoon, Mr. N. L. Smith being in the chair. Other members present were Dr. W. W. Pearce, the Hon. Mr. H. T. Crenay, Dr. J. C. Macgown, Dr. W. V. M. Koch, Mr. S. W. Tso and Mr. Wong Kwong-tin. Mr. D. Davies was also present.

The chairman read amendments to the proposed bye-laws governing aerated water manufacturing suggested by the Government and these were seconded and adopted. He mentioned that the Government had deferred legislation in the matter of the proposed bye-laws governing food preserving establishments and he proposed to bring them up before the Board again in about three months' time.

Unsatisfactory Water.

In reply to a query regarding water supply in an instance where the quality of the water had been found unsatisfactory the chairman said the copies of the water return were received by the Board as complementary copies. During the past year much discussion had taken place as to who should take the responsibility for the interpretation of the figures and it had been decided that the P. C. M. O. should, as adviser to the Government. The P. C. M. O. sent to the Board every month a statement on the water supply generally and the figures of the bacteriologist, and he thought that when water was found unsatisfactory steps would be taken immediately to bring it up to proper standard.

Dr. Macgown said what he wanted to know was whether this unsatisfactory water was being allowed to pass through taps.

The Chairman: I think steps are taken immediately.

Mr. Crenay said no tap water had been badly reported on. The case of unsatisfactory water in question was just after filtration and before it had been chlorinated. When a report of this kind was received action was taken at once.

Cholera Cases.

Dr. Koch raised the point of infectious ports. He said he had been given to understand that Shanghai and the Philippines had been certified as places where infectious diseases existed. He wondered if the chairman could tell him how many cases of cholera had been reported.

The Chairman: I'm afraid I must have notice of that.

Dr. Pearce: I can give the information. Two cases of cholera have been reported to the medical department as having been imported from Shanghai.

GOLF.

CLUB v. VOLUNTEERS.

The following teams have been selected to represent Royal Hongkong Golf Club and Volunteer Defence Force at Fanling on Sunday, October 11th.

Play will be by singles in the morning and four balls in the afternoon, one point being scored for a win and ¼ point for a bye of three holes or over in the singles, and in the four-balls the scoring is doubled.

A FRIEND AT COURT.

REV. J. KIRK MACONACHIE
AT HOME.

News from the Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Macconachie is to hand that they were having a very pleasant and recuperative holiday in England, says the Union Church Record. Mr. Macconachie wrote that he much regretted being unable to proceed as arranged to Stockholm for the International Congress, as he found that it would be exactly the time when it would be possible to see something beyond short glimpses of their few remaining relatives.

Another letter received from him in September says with regard to Chinese affairs:

Here the industrial situation is so serious that attention to China is not easily to be got, "a bit of trouble among the Chinese" seems to be the common notion and no one seems to want to know much more. I wrote an article for the Westminster Gazette at the Editor's request and he cut out the paragraphs I most wanted to put in. A certain public man got me to write another, which he sent to The Times but it has not seemed acceptable though ill-formed speculation is. Ten days ago I had a valued opportunity of addressing a group of conservative M.P.'s at the "House" (in a committee room of course) and found full sympathy for what I take to be the Hongkong view moderately put forth. Dr. Hodgkin and Dr. Harold Balmes—the latter of the Shantung University—spoke before me and I had frankly to disagree to some extent. I feel any little influence I can exert must go toward getting due attention to our Colonial opinions and interests, liable to be swamped in sentimentalism or overlooked in the press of affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Macconachie are sailing from Marseilles by the Kamo Maru, which is due here about November 17th. The Committee of Management have in mind to arrange a reception in the form of a social gathering of some kind on Friday, 20th. November, and all friends are earnestly requested to keep this evening free. Further particulars will be announced later.

Tiffin will be ordered for all the players engaged.

"TRUSSIT"

METAL LATH
I. STRENGTH.

The Wall built of "TRUSSIT" is built entirely without forms. Concrete is only used to the extent it is needed. A wall 2" thick is entirely practical. The reinforcing strands are located near the surface and spaced about the centre, at the same time being at a maximum distance from it. Thus the wall is equally well reinforced against thrust from either side. The multitude of filaments tying the reinforcing strands together make cracking of the wall impossible.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[To the Editor, Hongkong Telegraph.]

Student Strikers.

Sir,—I have just read for a second time Bellamy's life of Byron. The extract quoted below is interesting as it shows that not only in schools in China have we had rebellions, etc. There have been numerous other similar instances at Universities and Schools in England. I hope the extract will help some persons to take a balanced view of the student trouble in China. In my opinion, too much has been made of it.

However, we live and learn by mistakes.
The extract of course refers to what happened at Byron's school—Harrow.

"When in March, 1805, Dr. Drury retired, there was a rebellion among the boys against the appointment of his successor, Dr. Butler, and in favour of his son Drury. Wildman was at the head, and the question arose whether Byron was likely to join. Some one said he knew he would not, because he did not choose to act second to any one, but that he might at once be secured by being given the leadership. Whereupon Wildman readily made way, and his lordship condescended to take command. He continued to be rude and implacable in his attitude to Butler, part of whose offence seems to have lain in his youthfulness, which, he being only thirty-one, would naturally contrast somewhat strongly with the mature age of Drury, retiring after thirty-five years' service at the school.

"I never feared the young usurper's nod," boasts Byron in Childish Recollections, in which the new chief was designated as pomposus," and in the MS. was the couplet.

A boy o'er boys he holds a trembling reign.

More fit than they to seek some school again.

"Unfit to govern, ignorant of rule," is part of the flattering description which was duly published. One day he was summoned to give an explanation of his action in tearing down the window-bars in the hall, and replied arrogantly, "Because they darkened the room."

Another illustration of his insolence is supplied by his refusal of the Headmaster's invitation to dinner on the ground that if he were staying at Newstead, (Byron's home) he, Byron, would certainly not invite him to dine. Altogether, it is not a very agreeable picture that we conjure up for ourselves of this schoolboy, and yet it is a picture of never-failing interest, and it is pleasant to know that he became reconciled to both Henry Drury and "Pomposus." He was a monitor before he left.—Yours etc.
CHI SIN YAN.

CHINESE GENERAL'S VISIT.

TO REPORT ON CANTON OUTLOOK.

Some days ago, the arrival here of General Wong Sze-lung from Peking was reported. At the time, much speculation was aroused—in the minds of the Chinese public as to his presence in the Colony at this particular time.

It is now reported that General Wong has been deputed by the Central Government to investigate the present situation in Kwangtung and to report the results of his investigation direct to the Central Government.

VODKA QUEUES.

REAL FREEDOM IN RUSSIA.

Moscow, Oct. 6.
The free sale of vodka containing a maximum of forty per cent. of alcohol and brandy and liquors with a mixture of sixty per cent. of alcohol has begun. This measure has been taken in consequence of the imprudent use of wheat and rye by the peasantry in making vodka, also the smuggling of liquors. On the first day of sale, queues lined up outside the shops here.

COULD NOT TURN IN BED WITHOUT HELP

So Painful Was Her Rheumatism.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS Made Her Well.

Many rheumatic people suffer pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. Rheumatism comes with thin impure blood, and can only be driven out of the system by enriching and purifying the blood. It is because they cleanse and strengthen the blood and rapidly make new, rich, red blood, that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are world famous as a remedy for this painful crippling disease. Among the thousands of sufferers cured in this way is Mrs. A. Bryson, living at Arthur, Ontario, Canada, who says:—

"I was so used up with rheumatism in my shoulders and neck that I could not turn in bed without help, and the pain at times was almost unbearable. I took doctors' medicine which did me little or no good. Then I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and have since been free from rheumatism. I can also recommend the pills to young mothers, as in my own case I found they are unexcelled. I may also add that I recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to a neighbour who took fainting spells at the change of life, and who could not walk any distance. She took the pills for nearly three months and they made her a strong, well woman."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at $1.50 per bottle, $8 for 6 bottles, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60, Kings Road, Shanghai.

Benny Says "No."

An exclusive photograph of Benny Leonard, retired undefeated light-weight champion of the world, as he tells his father in their apartment in New York City that all reports of his proposed return to the prize-fighting ring are false. This is believed to be the only time that Leonard has ever posed with his father.

On Guard.

Max Phillips, wealthy collar manufacturer, who is being guarded on his estate at Eatontown, N. J., against the attack of black-mailers who are threatening him.

Bank Robbery.

More than $12,000 of the $21,000 which Fred C. Nickol, Dayton, O., manufacturer, obtained by robbing a bank there was discovered in a new garage in the rear of his $40,000 home. Part of it was secreted in a window frame. A detective is shown with a box full of the recovered currency.

Biggest Prize in Tennis.

Here's a reproduction of the famous Davis cup—the trophy emblematic of the international tennis championship. It is the most highly prized souvenir of lawn tennis, being annually contested for by close to two dozen nations from various parts of the universe. Davis cup battles have been held almost yearly since 1900 but only three different entries, United States, British Isles and Australia, have been able to win the honours in all that time. America has now won for some years in succession.

RIP ROARING BATTLES WITH GIANT FISH

It goes without saying that the fish that gets away is "the biggest fish of all." Often it is really true. There's a monster fish along Sand Reef, five miles out of Key West, who has stripped seventeen fishermen clean of their tackle and only two men have seen him. But he will weigh a good six hundred pounds, and some day, if he keeps at his old haunts, the three year hunt for the monster will be ended by a lucky sportsman.

Whether you land your fish or whether you lose him, there's a thrill in every minute of the battle. Take the sailfish, a huge chap, reaching eight feet or more. He's one of the speediest of fish and can swim at a rate of sixty or seventy miles an hour when first hooked. He sets the reel smoking as he whizzes through the water with express train speed. He can jump across thirty feet of ocean and has been known to leap more than thirty times when on the line. Frenzied with rage and terror, he shakes his great head, trying to hurl the hooks from his mouth. George Schutt, down at Long Key Fla., had a sailfish leap into his boat and it struck an iron stanchion as it fell, bending it an inch out of shape. The sailfish has been known to charge a row boat and run its pike, or till, through the planking. Sometimes in desperation he will walk the water for 50, 75, and even more than 100 feet, with only his tail in the water as he lashes himself across the surface, at an angle and amidst a wave of foam.

The sailfish is caught in the Gulf Stream, or along the reefs at its edges, along the East coast of Florida, from Key West to 150 miles, or so, north of Miami. He comes to like the warmth and current of the "Stream." The first sailfish officially recorded by anglers four fishermen was caught near Palm Beach in 1901. Since then, fishermen have learned the habits of the sailfish and his habits better. The sailfish, besides the small ones on which he lives by rapping them with his bill. Then he picks them up at his leisure. When you feel a sailfish tapping your bait let the line go slack, so the bait will simulate the action of a small fish that has been wounded. Then, after a few seconds, yank your rod for dear life to "set" the hooks in the sailfish's narrow, hard, bony mouth. Sportsmen have taken sailfish on a six thread line. That is, a line which parts at a direct strain of twelve pounds. But it takes a real expert to know how to catch an eighty pound fish swimming a mile a minute, on this tackle.

Today, sailfish are caught by both men and women near Key West, Miami, Ft. Lauderdale, Stuart and other towns. The record is 495 sailfish last season, most of them liberated. Is held by Long Key, a picturesque island, located on the Florida East Coast. Rail way overcross extension, about nine miles south of Miami.

Truth is, the vast numbers of great, fighting, leaping game fish of the American tropics constitute a marvelous game resource that everyone can enjoy. They afford more thrills than the big game hunter can have in Africa, and the sport lasts longer. It's not over with the roar of a heavy rifle. And there are millions of fish in these beautiful semi-tropical waters. There are all sorts, from fish that weigh ten pounds to those that weigh five hundred. The tarpon, glorious "Silver King," has more tricks of reeling the hook than the sailfish. When caught, he will wag his client head from side to side like a bull dog, and leaping from the water amid a rainbow of spray, has been known to throw the hook fifty feet from his mouth. A few months ago, Nat Jerlaw, famous fisherman, was almost struck by a tarpon when it jumped clear over his boat. In winter this giant leaping is often seen by thousands in the waters of Key West, and has been caught from the docks there, and beneath the Long Key viaduct. In spring, the tarpon seeks the channels and fresh water streams and is caught in summer as far north as Bayport at the mouth of the St. Johns River, at Ormond, Daytona Beach, and elsewhere along the Halifax and Indian Rivers, and in the New River at Ft. Lauderdale. The tarpon is a heavier fish than the sailfish, sometimes reaching up close to two hundred pounds; the record is 215, while the sailfish runs up to ninety-five in these waters. No one knows along slowly in a bunch until you see a big shadow on the bottom, you hurl a spear unto it, and the thrill begins. When he comes to the surface, the saw fish will throw his "saw," a flat bony projection of his snout, armed with flat-edged transverse spikes in all directions. When hooked, a saw fish has been known to kill a shark which rushed to attack it. A big saw fish has been known to tow a boat for eight hours.

The giant manta or ox ray is another monster that puts up a glorious fight. The broad wing-like fins of this largest of rays give it a strangely bird-like appearance, an effect which is Again he leaps. The reel smokes, as he rushes down the coast. Hold him boy, he's strong. At last the great game warrior gives up. But it was some job to keep the boat maneuvering in the trough of the sea.

The great barracuda, "tiger of the sea," goes after the bait like a shot out of a gun. He will catch anything that moves, even while razed on a hook. He will dash to the side of a boat and bite in two with his huge canine teeth a king fish of his own size that is being pulled from the water. He has been known to kill human beings. He runs up to fifty-seven pounds, and when first taken from the water is a gleaming, quivering, iridescent mass of silver. I've seen six or eight barracudas after a single fish on my line. The barracuda is a splendid sporting fish, often leaping gloriously into the air when first hooked. If he is the "tiger of the sea," the great amber fish or amberjack, which reaches one hundred pounds, deserves to be called the "bull dog of the ocean." This grand fish never jumps. It always hops down a man who has fought a lot of them plucky fish for an hour or so, he comes an exhausted, weak and whistly, sweat-drenched wreck. His back aches, his hands are blistered through nipping the monster.

Sometimes he becomes too weary to exercise his best skill with rod and reel, and the hook gets away. A new sport is provided by the big saw fish, a monster that reaches thirty feet in length, and a weight of two tons or more. He is found in the Halifax and Indian Rivers along the East coast of Florida, in the shoals of the Florida Keys and elsewhere. You go heightened when it is caught and flaps over the surface. One of the largest of these fish taken recently was caught near St. Augustine and weighed 1,235 pounds.

A grouper will often put up a great fight, leaping from the water. He is splendid eating. So is the plucky, battling kingfish, another fighter and leaper. Striped bass, sea trout, the enormous jew fish, that beneath the clear water looks big as an ox, snappers, yellow-tail, all afford magnificent sport.

The few fish is a sluggish brute, rarely fighting more than fifteen or twenty minutes, but there's a thrill in landing one of these monsters, for he may weigh up to 500 lbs. Jew fish are caught with live bait, using a fish weighing from 1/2 pound to 2 1/2 pounds, and anchoring out above the rocky bottoms in whose holes and caverns the few fish lurks. The best way to find about fishing is to inquire of some of the old timers in the vicinity. They are always glad to help a stranger. It's no trick to catch a boat of fish, but who wants so many?

Fishing is everybody's sport. Seventy-five per cent of the big game fishermen and women who fish in these waters are novices at the game. Ten years from now it will take the place of his game hunting in our forefathers' day.

But a clever boy with a ten-cent fish-line can have as much sport in catching grey snappers, yellow-tail, all sea fish, and filling his string with any of the scores of varieties of good fish along the East coast of Florida, as can any millionaire with the costliest equipment.

The Telegraph.

WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 7, 1925.

THE OUTLOOK.

In spite of the improved tone brought about mainly by the announcement of the proposed trade loan of three million pounds sterling, there is still a disastrous stagnation of the Colony's trade and the absence of any real business. To say so much is not to be a moaner; it is but the statement of the truth. It is estimated by those best-in-a position so to do that the goods in storage in the Kowloon and West Point godowns now amount in value to over five million pounds sterling, and with every ship that arrives from Home the amount of such merchandise in storage becomes all the greater. The clearances are but negligible, and so the position, as from day to day, grows all the more critical for those in commerce who are wondering just how much longer they can go on living on their credit and capital. Let it be said to the credit of British banking institutions here that they are extending bills and overdrafts on trading accounts to an extent never before experienced and that many a firm is being enabled to wait for the revival of trade solely because of a bank's assistance. The matter of greatest moment is the probable date of more or less normal trade resumption, and for that Hongkong, just as are the merchants of Canton, is dependent upon the temper and spirit of the labour leaders in Canton. The crux of the whole question, therefore, still remains centred outside this Colony.

There are two schools of thought among the merchants of this Colony—those who believe that matters will shortly right themselves because of the inherent common-sense of the Chinese nature and the inevitable early realisation of the insanity of the boycott and strike, and those who are convinced that matters will go on very much as they exist now so long as the Labour leaders and Bolsheviks in Canton are left undisturbed. The one party point to the recent partial restoration of confidence and the relaxation of the boycott on passengers from Hongkong as being signs of the mending trend, whilst the other party see no reason why the present Canton leaders should want to give up their fight against Hongkong unless they are forced to do so. The Russian element in Canton is, so this latter party say, sufficiently well entrenched behind the protection of Chang Kai-shek and other revolutionary Chinese to resist all but strong military efforts at removal. Whether the anti-Red forces which recently took over Swatow can ever be made sufficiently strong to have a chance of success against the Canton army is strongly doubted in some quarters, and there is a conviction that, failing direct intervention in Canton on the part of Britain, we are doomed to suffer a dragging and disastrous commercial fight with Bolsheviks who have little to lose and everything to gain. These are the two schools of opinion now current, and there is a wide divergence between them.

We are now well into the fourth month of the strike, or boycott, and in some respects we seem just as far off a settlement as ever. Trade loans won't give us back our trade—it is the people of South China who alone can do that. Those who see in this ostracism of things British a definitely non-Chinese influence have much justification for their belief, because the ostracism is proving as hurtful to the trading and producing interests of the Chinese as it is to foreigners. It is our own view that when the inner history of this anti-Hongkong movement becomes publicly known in the days yet to be it will be found, in the main, to be but part of a much wider movement by the political extremists of Europe who seek the breakdown of the capitalistic system and the downfall of Britain as a spectacular beginning.

Obstructive Methods.

In view of the near approach of the big Conference between the Powers and China in Peking, it is much to be regretted that the Chinese Government should maintain such a stubborn attitude in declining to have anything to do with the judicial enquiry into the Shanghai incidents. The decision to appoint no Judge to sit on the Commission is reiterated in the latest Note from the Ministry for Foreign Affairs, the chief reason set forth being that most of the requisite evidence has become unobtainable, owing to the lapse of time. That, surely, is a matter which could only be proved after the Commission got to work; merely to make the bald categorical statement does not establish it as a fact. If there were anything in this contention by the Peking Government, the latter's position would be immeasurably strengthened if it first showed a willingness to co-operate in the enquiry. That much done, and the Commission having begun its task, China could with good grace withdraw if it became apparent that the facts could not be investigated through lack of material evidence. As matters stand, we are left with the impression that the Government is out to obstruct the holding of the enquiry at all costs. With regard to the full-page advertisement issued by the Shanghai Chinese General Chamber of Commerce saying that no Chinese will be identified or associated with the enquiry, this looks to us perilously like the tactics of intimidators. Be that as it may, the efforts being made to scotch the enquiry do not reflect a helpful spirit at this juncture in the affairs of China, and we fear that the attitude disclosed is likely to react unfavourably on the prospects of any markedly beneficial results accruing from the forthcoming Conference.

Aircraft Carriers.

With the acknowledgment of the extreme value of aircraft in modern warfare, and in defence, there has come into being of late a strong party in favour of aerial expansion, both in Britain and the United States. At home the agitation has been occasioned principally by knowledge of the numerical superiority of Continental nations compared with ourselves in the matter of aircraft, and one result of this consciousness has been the coming into being of the civilian flying clubs. But our naval and military authorities are giving greater attention now to this arm of the service, and the provision of big aircraft carriers for the navy is one sign of that realisation. The Hermes, now in port, is surpassed considerably in size by two other units of the British Navy, and no doubt the progressive policy of the future will yet see even greater "mammoth" of this type of craft. Yesterday we had a message referring to the latest acquisition of the United States, named the Lexington, which is of huge proportions, and is able to accommodate 72 flying machines. It is stated that her decks give a "clear landing space" of over five acres. This, if correctly estimated, suggests that the vessel has several landing decks, one beneath the other, and possibly really means the total parking space. But the real significance of the launching of vessels of this description lies in the definite advance made towards aerial independence. The days when flying machines had to limit their range, and were tied to a land base, liable to location and subsequent destruction, are past. The case of the Hermes is one in point—the threat arose, and within a few weeks a base for aircraft had been transferred from the Mediterranean to the China Sea.

PLAY AND PLAYERS.

FOOTBALL GROUNDS PUZZLE ALREADY.

By "Wanderer."

No better evidence could be had of the chaotic effect of the Government's decision in relation to the allocation of grounds, than at last evening's meeting of the League Management Committee when it was found that having elected ten teams to membership of Section B of Division Two, it was impossible to proceed with the arrangement of fixtures.

The matter has been delayed until the result of Thursday's meeting is known and the chances are that the section will be delayed for a week or two. There was some talk of playing the matches in mid-week but of course several teams will find this impossible while the light falls at about six o'clock.

Thirteen teams applied for admission to the section but three "C" Company, Surreys, and two platoon teams of the Surreys were rejected on the grounds that they are too strong for the section and if elected would defeat the object for which the Second Division was split. The teams elected are: Kowloon "B", St. Joseph's "B", St. Joseph's Boarders, Surreys Drums II, South China "B" and "C", Club de Recreio "B", University, Moslem "A" and "B".

The Section was several times referred to as the Third Division and in view of its composition it would not be a bad idea if it were so designated.

We are breaking no confidences in stating that as was only to be expected there was some little discussion at the meeting in reference to Sir Claud Severn's letter to the Hongkong Football Association. Mr. James pointed out the seriousness of the situation and we were very pleased to hear Lieut. Cottam, the East Surreys representative, candidly state that the Garrison Recreation Club, who were at the back of the objection to the Association's authority, had no possible leg to stand on. It was clearly shown by the fact that the Surreys in applying for admission to the league made their entry direct. There was no question of putting it through the Garrison Recreation Club, and as a matter of fact the Surreys had always fully accepted the jurisdiction of the H.K.F.A.

PROSPECTS OF HONGKONG LEAGUE CLUBS.

No. 8.—Club de Recreio. The prospects of the "Babes" of the First Division are none too rosy, especially in view of the fact that they may be deprived of the services of two of the players' best known last season.

They are however very keen and we should imagine since they play a type of football much akin to that of the Chinese, will bring off many surprises. So far in their practice games they have failed to find that shooting ability which brought them over a century of goals in the Second Division last year, but no doubt this will come when they settle down to the different standard of football.

The probable team will be Fernandez in goal, with Xavier and Ogley as backs; a strong half-back line; Souza, A. A. Remedios (Capt.) and H. Remedios; and forward Silva, Fuentes, Gosano, Rocha and Brown. Gosano's principal fault so far this season has been a tendency to stray from his position.

The fixtures are as follows:

THE POINT OF VIEW.

We may all find a measure of sympathy for the St. Louis man who has it is stated used the first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals for hitting him in the face with a home run. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant "deliberately and with the intention to create a situation commonly known as a home run" batted a ball into the bleachers of the ball park, and that this ball struck him, causing nervous shock and disfigurement.

Of course it might well be said that any ball-player who deliberately and with malice aforethought knocked a ball all the way into the centre-field bleachers with the intention of mauling a particular fan had reached the acme of deliberation and malice, to say nothing of aim. But let us suppose that we were that particular fan in that particular bleacher and had stopped that particular ball in that particular way. Would we be so broad-minded about it?

Probably not. Quite possibly the more we thought about it the more convinced we would be that the batter, with deliberation and malice, had singled us out for distinction. It all depends on which end of the home run you are looking at.

CARTLIDGE'S CHALLENGE ACCEPTED IN TWO PLACES.

Cartlidge's letter in our issue of Monday has brought forth two challenges. The first comes from A.B. Ewin, who states, "With reference to the challenge of C.P.O. Cartlidge in your issue of Monday, I should like to publicly state, that I have, this last few weeks been endeavouring to see Cartlidge for a business chat. Up to the present I have been unlucky, and although leaving a note behind asking Cartlidge for an interview, he has failed in any way to acknowledge it. I therefore take this opportunity of challenging Cartlidge to fifteen 2-minute rounds at 10st 7lbs, in a month's time, at any place he cares to nominate. I wish also to state that I should like Cartlidge to box either Stoker Morris or myself before tackling heavyweights. If he can overcome these obstacles, I should be one of the first to congratulate him."

Stoker Morris also takes up Cartlidge's challenge, and further proceeds to throw out one of a similar nature. In part he writes:—"I have read in your paper, Jim Cartlidge's Challenge to all Service men from feather to heavy weight. I am out with the same challenge. Before leaving the China Station I would like to fight any man up to twelve stone, sailor, soldier or civilian over 10, 15 or 20 rounds."

"I have not a bad record," he continues, "I have topped the bill in Ireland and Wales. Before leaving England I fought and defeated the Navy and Marines middleweight champion in seven rounds of a twelve rounds contest. I have also boxed a draw with Mike O'Connor, the middleweight champion of Western Canada. In all I have fought 200 contests and have never yet taken the full count. So I think with Jim Cartlidge's experience and mine, we should give the best fight seen in the Colony for many a long time."

"I am 144 lbs; hope he won't object to a few pounds. I leave the rest to the H.K.B.A. but will put up a side stake if necessary."

The annual meeting of the Hongkong Boxing Association is to be held on October 28th, when no doubt the question of the first tournament will be definitely settled.

BIG DIVIDENDS.

The sensational dividend of $368.40 for a win and $95.60 for a place was paid in the seventh race of the International Recreation Club's meeting at Kiangwan recently when T. T. Chow's "Bawbee", a rank outsider, was brought home first by William Hu, in the Speculation Selling Plate. "Bawbee" was put up for auction immediately after the race and was bought in by Mr. E. Toog for $1,000. Other excellent dividends were declared, Mr. Wolly's Jollybird, ridden by Remedios, paying $140 for a win in the first race of the day, and Z. H.'s Great Triumph, ridden by Quincey, $69.40 for a win in the Brocklesby Stakes.

There was a good attendance at the meeting, and sweeps were well subscribed to. The weather was ideal, though going was a little heavy on account of the recent rains. The best race of the day was the ninth, won by Bunus, ridden by Halmovitch, by a short head from "Maybe" Can, jockeyed by Matland. The two horses came down the straight neck and neck. First one and then the other seemed to get his nose in front, until right on the post when Halmovitch, with a splendid piece of riding, lifted his pony a few inches into the lead.

SHANGHAI LETTER.

Enquiry Obstruction—Fraud
Sensation—Mill Workers Return.

(Our Own Correspondent)

Shanghai, Oct. 3rd.

On the eve of opening in Shanghai of the judicial inquiry into the street shootings on May 30 and afterwards, when three distinguished foreign jurists had arrived to conduct it, the possibility was foreseen that the inquiry could not be held, or, if it were held, it could only prove abortive.

The three jurists who arrived over the week-end are Justice Kitano Suga, Chief Justice of the Hiroshima Appellate Court; Sir Henry Gollan, Chief Justice of Hongkong; and Justice E. Finley Johnson, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Philippine Islands. The Town Hall on Nanking Road, just across the street from Louza Police Station where the shooting on May 30 took place, was designated as the place where the hearing would be held and it was believed that the opening session of the inquiry would take place on Wednesday, October 7.

But the hearing may be discredited, due entirely to the attitude of the Chinese, and the Chinese opposition to the inquiry, it was believed, might prove an insurmountable obstacle that would defeat the purpose of the Powers in sending to Shanghai the three jurists.

In tune with the clamor raised recently at the capital regarding the judicial inquiry, what is called the "Associated Labour, Commercial and Educational Organization" of Shanghai last week issued a manifesto calling upon Chinese in general to have nothing whatever to do with the inquiry.

The attitude taken is that as China will not appoint a judge, no Chinese evidence will be given before the investigators; the Chinese authorities shall refuse to render any assistance to the foreign jurists and what amounts to a boycott shall be declared against the whole inquiry.

It is emphasized that if the international tribunal sits and is permitted to hear only a portion of the case, and this but one side of it, the inquiry could scarcely be anything but abortive, for, having rejected the proposal to hold the hearing, China would be unwilling to receive any finding arrived at. Foreign legal organisations extended a warm welcome to the three distinguished visitors.

SERIOUS FRAUD CHARGES.
Extraordinary interest has been stirred in Shanghai's British community over a criminal case of unusual character which just now is being heard in court. Mr. Harold F. Wadham, a middle-aged Briton, and head of Wadham Company, is the accused and is answering a series of charges of fraud and larceny involving something between Taels 10,000 and Taels 20,000. In all there are five charges.

One of the principal complainants is a former compradore of the Wadham firm, one Tsao Chan-son, who told in the witness box that he had been victimized out of several large sums. Details of the story of this witness were of special interest, involving a prominent British clubman sportsman, Mr. W. A. Dalgarno. The witness said Mr. Wadham had informed him that he was negotiating a sale of property in the fashionable Hungjiao district in Shanghai's West End, and in this was associated with the firm of Jardine, Matheson and Company. The witness said, he was then called upon to pay a compradore order Mr. Wadham had issued in the sum of $3,000. When he received this the witness said he called Mr. Wadham's attention to it, and Mr. Wadham told him it related to the Hangjiao land transaction, pointing out that it was endorsed by Mr. Dalgarno, of the property department of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Company.

Mr. Dalgarno was then questioned in court about the compradore order, and he explained that Mr. Wadham had made a bet against the Morris racer "Manna" in the Derby and the compradore order had been tendered in payment of the lost bet. Following the preliminary hearing, the charges against the accused are to be heard in the British Supreme Court.

BRITISH WOMEN UNITE.

AN AUCTION ROOM INCIDENT.

We regret to state that in our issue of Monday, under the heading of "Spirited Auctions," we erroneously stated that at a sale at the China Auction Rooms a dispute arose over the sale of one lot of goods and that something like a free fight ensued. The sale and dispute did not take place at the auction rooms mentioned.

Mr. E. V. M. R. de Sousa, the proprietor of the China Auction Rooms, desires it to be publicly known that no bidding conspiracies on the part of "rings" have ever been successful at his sales, a circumstance, he says, with which the dealers are fully acquainted.

METHODS.

Moscow, September 29.—The Chinese Military Mission sent by Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang, headed by General Sun Ping, arrived at Moscow to-day. The General, accompanied by two secretaries, was met at the station by representatives of the Soviet authorities. The Mission will stay in Russia for about a month. Soon after their arrival, the members of the Mission were received by Mr. Karakhan.

In an interview with a Soviet news agency correspondent, General Sun Ping stated that the delegation intends to study the achievements of the Soviet Government, the work of restoration of industry, military organisation and education, etc.

bodies will become affiliated and will enable members when visiting Yokohama or Shanghai to be introduced by letter and to enjoy use of the headquarters in both cities. Members of the affiliated bodies residing in either city for periods from one to four months may obtain rights of full membership on payment of the outport subscription of one dollar. Members of the affiliated societies who reside more than four months in either city become ordinary members of the organization in that city.

Final action in connection with the affiliation of the two branches is to be taken at the forthcoming annual meeting of the members of the Shanghai organization.

END OF THE STRIKE.

With work being resumed in British industrial plants and strike leaders and agitators in hiding, Shanghai has witnessed in the week the final phases of the labour disturbance which disrupted business, with huge attendant financial losses.

Last to some into operation are the British mills, for though the boycott originally was aimed against both British and Japanese interests, arrangements were brought about by Japanese owners which enabled them to resume work when the movement became concentrated in virulent form against British employers. Picturesque scenes marked the return to the Jardine, Matheson and Company cotton mills of the army of four thousand workers last week. Headed by blaring bands and to the accompaniment of crashes of thousands of fire-crackers, the operatives, men, boys, women and girls, marching in pairs and fours through the Wayside district into Yangtzepoo, arranged a parade into the compound of the mills. After being told that their pay was being resumed at once, they were dismissed with orders to re-appear for duty on Monday, October 4th, the interval being used to prepare the machinery for their coming.

All major British industrial plants again were humming with activity on Monday.

POSSESSION DISPUTE.

DEFENDANT RETAINS TENANCY.

The case in which the Kwong Fat Lung firm turned over their premises at 57, Main Street, Aberdeen, to another firm in consideration of payment of a certain sum for the effects, and in which the landlord objected to the assignment, sued for possession and declared that the defendants had wrongfully forced their way into the premises was continued before Mr. Justice Wood at the Summary Court this morning.

Mr. E. S. C. Brooks appeared for the landlord, and Mr. D. MacCallum represented the defendants.

The case was adjourned on Monday in order that the plaintiff might be given an opportunity of looking up the law on the question of conduct constituting an assignment.

Mr. Brooks this morning said that if his Lordship found as a fact that the defendant offered the balance of the money under the contract, that this was refused, and that the defendant then went to the Police Station with the money, he had nothing more to say.

Mr. Justice Wood said that that was his view.

Mr. Brooks asked that if his Lordship gave judgment for the defendant he should make an order for the payment of the balance of the sum due under the contract.

Mr. Justice Wood said that he was not in a position to make the order and gave judgment for defendant with costs.

Mr. Brooks asked for a stay of execution for fourteen days in order that he might apply for a re-hearing in order to call further evidence.

Mr. Justice Wood.—Was the evidence available when the case was heard?

Mr. Brooks.—It was available, it was not foreseen that it would be necessary.

The Puisse Judge declined to grant a stay of execution.

CINEMA INCIDENT.

ALLEGED ASSAULT ON TICKET COLLECTOR.

Two Chinese policemen, one of whom was designated as a special searcher, and the other a regular hukong, appeared before Mr. S. B. B. McElderry, at the Central Magistracy this morning, as defendants in a charge of assault brought by the ticket collector of the Western Cinema at Third Street.

The prosecution stated that the first man, whose name is Cheung Cheung, sought to enter the Cinema last night and was asked for his ticket by the collector. The request was not complied with, it is alleged, but the collector was instantly struck twice in the chest by Cheung Cheung, who then ran out of the Theatre. When the collector followed him into the street, he was set upon by not only Cheung Cheung, but also by the other defendant in the case, Chan Wan, and a number of others, and given a severe beating after being overpowered and thrown to the ground. The crowd scattered on whistles being blown, but the defendants were not able to make their escape. Amongst the witnesses of the attack was a member of the audience, who would appear in the case to give evidence.

Inspector Peter Grant, in outlining the case, mentioned that the defendants had been refused admission into the Theatre when they came without tickets, on a previous occasion. He suggested that this might have been the origin of the affair.

Mr. M. K. Lo appeared for the defence, and the case was remanded for a week, one of the defendants stating that he would like to engage a solicitor.

The Government of Macao despatched a telegram to His Excellency Senhor Joao de Bianchi, the new Portuguese Minister at Peking, congratulating him on his appointment and welcoming him to China. His Excellency replied also telegraphically.

The case in which Noor Ahmed yesterday sued Loung Yuen-chuen for damages arising out of a motor-car collision, ended by Mr. Justice Wood dismissing the latter's counter-claim on finding that he was guilty of negligent driving. The question of plaintiff's damages was adjourned.

Street Secedes From City.

After two years of futile efforts to induce Cleveland to lay water mains and sewers along Burger Avenue, residents of that street seceded from the city. The street is marked "private drive" and barriers prevent any traffic through it. During the day women and children guard the barriers and at night men go on the job.

Perpetual Hiker.

Fifty weeks a year, J. W. Merry, Seattle mail carrier, hikes 12 miles a day. The other two weeks he takes a vacation and rests up. And his "rest" for eight years has consisted of taking a long hike. This year he reached the top of Mount Rainier, one of the most difficult in the country to climb.

Conducts Campaign From Bed.

Ross F. Walker, Democratic candidate for the post of mayor of Akron, will conduct his entire campaign from his bed. A vertebra in his back was fractured in an automobile accident in Canada and he will have to lie in a plaster cast until after the November election.

A Great Meeting.

New York went baseball crazy when the Pittsburgh ball team came to New York to play the New York Giants. Picture shows Young of the New York Giants sliding safely home in the first game.

Archbishop.

Archbishop John T. Mc Nicholas, who succeeds the late Archbishop Henry Moeller as head of the Catholic diocese of Cincinnati.

When Pirates and Giants Clashed.

Blase New York, the scene of four successive world series championships, took more interest in the Pittsburgh-N. Y. series of five games than it has taken in the last two world series. Apparently everyone in New York journeyed up to the Polo Grounds to see the Sunday double header. The stands were completely filled an hour and a half before the game time, and it is estimated that fully 50,000 fans were turned away by the police. The photo shows mounted police trying to stem the surge of baseball-crazed New Yorkers that attempted to crash into the ball park after the gates had been closed.

WEDDING.

PATERSON-BARTLETT.

An unusually charming wedding took place yesterday, at 11 a.m., though it was a quiet one and those present were only the immediate friends of the parties. The bride was Miss Josephine Bartlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bartlett, of Redcliffe Gardens, London, S.W., while the bridegroom was Mr. Robert Paterson, of the Asiatic Petroleum Company's staff at Nanking, son of E. Paterson Esq., who is senior partner of the firm of Ker, Bolton & Co., London. The ceremony took place at the Rosary Church, Kowloon, Rev. Father Spada officiating. The Reverend Father had prettily decorated the church, and it was a pleasing scene when the party entered. The bride was given away by Captain W. E. Clarke, while Mrs. Clarke deputised for the bride's mother as Matron of Honour.

The bride was very nicely dressed in old family lace over gold tissue, with veil of gold net complete with the conventional orange blossoms, arranged with venetian wired head-dress. The frock was set off with a bouquet of tea roses and maiden-hair fern.

The bridesmaids were Miss Daphne Bird, daughter of Hon. Mr. H. W. Bird, and Miss Marion Lane. They wore dainty dresses of lavender organdie, relieved with roses and forget-me-nots, and carried wands with Honolulu creeper.

The Matron of Honour, Mrs. Clarke, wore a dress of Irish crochet lace.

Mr. Peter Bartlett, R.N., brother of the bride, was best man. The service was fully choral, and closed with the Nuptial Mass. Afterwards the party adjourned to the Presbytery, which had also been gaily decorated, and where the reception was held and good wishes expressed.

The happy couple are spending their honeymoon at Tai-po, whither the bride travelled in a going-away dress of apricot georgette with large crinoline hat.
